

SENATOR JOHNSON FIGHTS BORAH'S PROPOSAL

U. S. BUSINESS AND INDUSTRY TO CONTINUE PROSPEROUS IN COMING YEAR, CLAIMS HOOVER

Unsettled Conditions In Europe Are Still Depressing Trade, Yet Outlook In This Country Improves, Figures Indicate

By H. K. REYNOLDS
For International News Service.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—Business and industry in the United States, approaching the beginning of the new year, can regard the progress of the past months with satisfaction and may look forward to continued prosperity during the early part of 1923, Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover declared today.

He pointed out, however, that "unsettled conditions in foreign countries, particularly in Europe, are still depressing our trade and to a certain extent have kept the prices of agricultural products below the level of other commodities."

The optimism voiced by Secretary Hoover was echoed by the federal reserve board in calling attention to increases in production and employment, greater volume of trade, and advancing prices during the month of November.

These price increases during the past two months were also noted by the commerce department in connection with its reference to the depression resulting from economic chaos abroad.

Greater Production

Production of manufactured commodities in 1922 was approximately 50 per cent greater than in 1921, according to figures compiled by the commerce department from reports to the census bureau.

Textile mills were about twenty per cent more active than in 1921, the iron and steel industry increased its output from 60 to 70 per cent, while other production gains were noted as follows:

Non-ferrous metals, 50 to 95 per cent; petroleum, 15 per cent; coke 40 per cent; paper 20 to 30 per cent; rubber 40 per cent; automobiles 50 per cent; building construction 50 per cent; lumber 25 per cent; brick 50 per cent; cement 15 per cent; leather 20 per cent; sugar 45 per cent, and meats about 5 per cent.

Coal Declines

The only declines of outstanding importance recorded by the census bureau were seven per cent in bituminous coal and 47 per cent in anthracite caused by the strikes last summer. The seven per cent reduction in soft coal production under the figures for 1921 resulted in a decrease of 26,000,000 tons due to a strike of five months last summer. The anthracite decrease aggregated 40,000,000 tons.

Agricultural receipts were reported as generally higher during 1922 as compared with the preceding year.

The increase in production coupled with a reduction in immigration improved the labor situation from a large surplus of labor at the end of 1921 to a point where shortages now occur, while unemployment has been almost eliminated.

Transportation conditions in 1922 changed from a big surplus

City Officials Fix Three Inch Macadam As Minimum For All Street Paving

Smuggle Liquor Worth $10,000,000 For Holiday Trade

By W. H. ATKINS
For International News Service.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—Liquor smugglers imported at least 100,000 cases of whisky, worth $10,000,000 at bootleg prices, into the United States in the week just before Christmas, according to government investigators today.

Reports made to treasury and justice department officials disclosed this volume of high voltage beverage had practically reached all chief centers of distribution and was sold to patrons of the bootleggers.

Prohibition officials admitted fleets of ships operated by smugglers have been making safe landings with their cargoes, because the prohibition navy vessels are now confined strictly to within the three mile limit for purposes of seizure.

Seldom does the dry navy even venture beyond American waters for purposes of "observation" unless flagrant cases are brought to the attention of the officials at Washington.

Smugglers have brought most of their stocks through the coastal gateways. Enormous shipments have gone through the dry enforcement barriers of the Jersey coast. A huge volume also has entered through the Canadian border.

ASQUITH MAY BE NEW AMBASSADOR

Former Premier May Come To United States; See 'America in Europe'

LONDON, Dec. 29.—Former Premier Asquith may succeed Sir Auckland Geddes as British ambassador to Washington, the Daily Express reported today.

Belief is growing that the United States will extend her participation in European affairs. The Daily Sketch interprets President Harding's letter to Senator Lodge in these words:

"President Harding has definite plans for America's active participation in European affairs on condition European finances are stabilized through settlement of the reparations problems."

Cabin Near Glendale Searched for Clara

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 29.—Clues found by deputy sheriffs at a deserted cabin near Glendale, where the officers believe Clara Phillips, escaped "hammer murderess" from the Los Angeles county jail, may have been hiding, were run down today in a new search for the missing woman.

The clues on which the officers worked today were found when they raided the cabin late yesterday after being informed that a mysterious "hermit woman" had been living in the cabin apparently alone.

OVERDEER LINER ARRIVES

NEW YORK, Dec. 29.—Seventy-two hours overdue, the storm-battered American liner Manchuria limped into port from Hamburg.

Uncle John Says--

Cousin George, who was out here from Los Angeles to our Christmas doin's, said he was quite surprised to see that Glendale had such a citified lookin' business district. "Yes," Mary says, "and it ain't all in looks, either. Glendale has now got one of the finest and best tradin' centers in southern California. The store keepers are up-to-date in everything and we can buy just as cheap here as you can in Los Angeles and we have just as good stocks to select from, too. There's been quite a sentiment stirred up to trade in Glendale and it's a good thing for all of us." George said he guessed she was right.

COUNCIL DECIDES ACTION NEED OF SUBDIVISIONS

Order May Be Modified by Special Permit; Officials Listen to Protest

Glendale is to permit no more streets to be paved with anything less than three inch macadam—except by special permission of the City Council.

A motion that Street Superintendent Ben F. Dupuy be instructed not to issue any permits for street work specifying less than three inch macadam until the application has been approved by the City Council was introduced at last night's council meeting by Councilman Sam A. Davis, and passed unanimously. It was seconded by Councilman Dwight W. Stephenson.

After a discussion on the subject lasting about an hour, the council went into executive session to consider several applications for permits to pave streets in subdivisions with less than three inch macadam. It was stated by Mayor Spencer Robinson that each case would be considered upon its individual merits.

Urges Action

The subject was brought up in the open meeting by Councilman Sam Davis, who moved that all street proceedings involving less than three inch macadam be abandoned whether the work was to be done under the Vrooman act or under private contract.

The question as to whether such legislation should be passed at once or delayed until subdivisions who have tentatively made applications for permission to improve their acreage with oiled streets was immediately brought up.

"You have got to start this thing some time," remarked Mr. Davis. "I know that I made practically this same motion two or three months ago. If there is any reasonable reason why we should grant the permits, all right, but I want this thing on the minutes."

Require Permit

Inquiry was made by Mayor Robinson as to whether subdivisions could pave streets within the city limits without securing a permit.

Plan New Street in Northwest Section

The dedication of a new street dividing Glendale road and Kenneth road and running between Grand View road and Highland avenue was referred to City Engineer Ben F. Dupuy last night by the City Council.

The desirability of opening up such a street on account of the slope of land and the usefulness in taking off rain water was emphasized by C. D. Poore of 1901 Glenwood road.

W. H. Reynolds of 910 Kenneth road and Mrs. Ella E. Gray of 216 Milford street, who own property in the vicinity of the new street, were present also.

Council to Form a Park Commission

Initial steps to place Glendale's parks under the control of a park commission were taken last night by the City Council.

"I move that the city attorney be instructed to draft an ordinance," remarked Councilman Dwight W. Stephenson, "creating a board of park commissioners and defining their duties in accordance with the provisions of the city charter."

Councilman A. H. Lapham promptly seconded the motion. Without discussion, the question was put to a vote by Mayor Spencer Robinson and passed unanimously.

Miss Kischell and M. E. Clark Marry

The marriage of Miss Karoline D. Kischell and Merion Edward Clark took place at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, Thursday, December 28, 1922, at the bride's home at 1529 San Fernando road.

Dr. H. C. Funk, pastor of the First Lutheran church, officiated and only relatives and a small group of close friends were in attendance. Following the ceremony a wedding dinner was served. Mr. and Mrs. Clark will reside in Los Angeles, where Mr. Clark is associated in business with his father.

D. RIPLEY JACKSON NEW LEADER FOR EXCHANGE CLUB

Members Elect President And Other Officers at Meeting Last Night

D. Ripley Jackson, postmaster of Glendale, was elected president of the Glendale Exchange club last night, by unanimous vote.

The meeting, which was the club's annual business session, took place in the auto show rooms of the E. B. Sutton company, 112 South Maryland avenue, at 8 o'clock, with twenty-five members present.

Other officers elected, to supplant the retiring group, were George A. Whitaker, vice-president, and George H. Thomas, treasurer, it being the second terms of the latter.

The new board of seven directors was also chosen. Dr. Henry R. Harrower, W. C. Waring, B. Sutton, R. E. Johnston, W. B. Kelly, Dr. J. A. Belyea and Fred Hill.

Pays Tribute

In accepting the office of president, Mr. Jackson paid a tribute to the retiring chief executive of the club, W. B. Kelly.

"I can't fill his shoes," stated Mr. Jackson, "but I will try to follow in his footsteps. I am going to work hard for this club, and with this club for Glendale, but not alone. No battle was ever won by leaders only. It is the men behind who count."

Here the new president stopped to praise the fine work of his staff at the postoffice, drawing as a comparison the co-operation they give him and the co-operation he is confident the Exchange club is going to accord, in the year to come.

Has Real Duty

"We feel this club has a real duty to perform," continued Mr. Jackson. "With the officers, the board of directors and the various committees all working in unison toward a definite goal—which is civic advancement—we should make ourselves one of the most potent factors for good in this city. And that, fellow members, with your help, we will do."

A. L. Baird Heads Music Committee

A. L. Baird has been selected chairman of a Community Service committee to develop a community music program for Glendale. Other members of the committee are: Alex Mitchell, Francis Henry, Mrs. Ella Richardson, D. Ripley Jackson, Mrs. W. A. Culp, Mrs. W. Q. Widdows, H. V. Henry and P. J. Hayselden.

These people met last night with Richardson D. White, program chairman, and Alexander Stewart, Community Service musical director. It is their plan to call a meeting early in February of all Glendale musicians and music lovers.

A request is to be sent the national bureau to secure the services of Alexander Stewart to conduct a music institute in Glendale for the training of song leaders.

To further plans for such an institute a committee was appointed to include Alex Mitchell, Mrs. W. Q. Widdows and Mrs. W. A. Culp. Among the musical activities to be developed is a community orchestra.

Fine Bred Chickens Are Received Here

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Root, of 425 West Lomita avenue, have just received from Santa Claus a shipment of White Wyandotte chickens from the officially trap-nested strain of this fine breed that won in the tenth national egg laying contest of the experimental station at Mountain Grove, Mo.

These fowls, which are of the flock that won cups and cash prizes for high ten over all breeds at the meet, are from the famous poultry farm of A. D. Walker, Memphis, Mo.

WOMAN SLAYS HUSBAND

OAKLAND, Dec. 29.—Frederick H. Hunt, wealthy business man, was shot and killed today by his wife, Mrs. Jennie Hunt, who then turned the gun on herself, inflicting wounds from which she probably will die. The shooting occurred in the Hunt residence, located in an exclusive residential district.

Heaviest Storm of Winter Hits New York, With City Facing Worst Fuel Crisis in Its History; New England Has Coal Famine

NEW YORK, Dec. 29.—While New York shivered today in 20 degrees above zero weather, in the wake of the heaviest storm of the winter, the city was menaced with the worst fuel crisis in its history. There are only forty-eight hours' supply of coal on hand, and snow has blocked many of the railway lines leading to the freight terminals where fuel is unloaded.

The storm began with a gale which swept all the eastern states but particularly the Atlantic coast. Rain turned to sleet and sleet to snow. Throughout the early part of the day a sixty-mile wind whirled the snow in high drifts. The thermometer fell to twenty degrees above zero.

One man was killed and many other persons were injured. Railroad and street traffic were badly crippled and thousands of commuters were late for work. Three thousand street sweepers were put to work cleaning the chief business thoroughfares.

Towards noon the skies cleared when the sun broke through, but the mercury did not rise appreciably.

Twenty-five persons were shaken up but none seriously hurt when a Brooklyn electric car was derailed by ice upon the tracks.

NEW ENGLAND CITIES FACE FUEL FAMINE

BOSTON, Dec. 29.—Boston and other New England cities today were facing a fuel famine as the result of a terrific storm which killed four persons and demoralized rail and marine traffic. Several victims met death in Boston, Providence, R. I., and Lakeport, N. H.

FRANCE DOES NOT ATTEMPT TO FORCE BELIEVE WAR TO BE DECLARED VOTE ON BORAH'S WORLD PARLEY

No Danger Seen in Far East, Rejection of Plan Certain to Result, Is Opinion of Senator Lodge

By J. BERT CAMPBELL
For International News Service.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—With the full pressure of the administration behind them, Senator Henry Cabot Lodge and his Republican associates were driving hard today to force a vote on Senator Borah's proposal for a world economic and disarmament conference, which President Harding so strongly condemned.

Senator Lodge expressed confidence that rejection of the Borah plan is certain once the senate stops talking about it. He and Senator Curtis of Kansas, the Republican "whip," planned to compel a vote on it before the end of today's session despite the increasing number of senators on both sides who served notice they intended to debate it.

Among the latter were Senators Johnson, Republican of California; Moses, Republican, New Hampshire; Cummins, Republican, Iowa; and Kellogg, Republican, Kansas, for instance.

Line-up Is Shown

But three Democratic senators were regarded as sure to vote for its rejection—Senators Shields of Tennessee, Reed of Missouri, and Walsh of Massachusetts.

Senator Underwood, Alabama, the Democratic leader, and Hitchcock, Nebraska, ranking minority member of the senate foreign relations committee, were among several Democrats, however, who displayed a lack of enthusiasm regarding it.

The line-up on the Republican side for it showed more than ten votes—Senators Borah, Idaho; McNary, Oregon; Norbeck, South Dakota; Brookhart, Iowa; Ladd, North Dakota; Stanfield, Oregon; Capper, Kansas; Norris, Nebraska; France, Maryland and Couzens, Michigan, with the possibility of Norris and one or two others dropping out.

The Greek cabinet at Athens has decided to call up additional classes of reservists.

General Pangalos, chief of staff of the Greek forces in Thrace, has departed secretly for Saloniki.

Blame Deadlock

The new war scare in the Near East has arisen from the deadlock in the peace conference at Lausanne. Neither the Turks nor the allies would give ground, with the result that the negotiations have been on the verge of absolute collapse for forty-eight hours.

Great Britain has massed a great fleet in the Turkish straits between the Black and Aegean seas. Although diplomatic relations between Greece and Great Britain were broken off, both nations would make common cause against the Turks.

Great Britain could furnish forty warships of various grades from the Mediterranean fleet, including transports and supply vessels, while Greece could put about 40,000 troops in the field to supplement the 12,000 British troops already in the Near East.

Local Kiwanis Club Elects Officers Today

The Glendale Kiwanis Club is meeting today in the Broadway Inn to elect officers for 1923.

Caterer William Herzel supervised serving of a chicken dinner. Nominees were as follows: A. L. Baird and A. L. Ferguson, president; Herman Nelson, first vice-president; Dr. T. C. Young, second vice-president; D. H. Smith, treasurer; Fred Deak, district trustee.

A board of seven directors was elected from the following: M. B. Towman, Ray Bentley, Henry Kuhn, Harry MacBain, W. H. Reeves, C. W. Ingledue, Frank Fox, C. D. Thom, Dr. Jack Anderson, Bert Perry, C. J. Hat, W. L. Truitt, C. A. Stuart, R. M. Brown, Emil O. Kiefer, O. W. Andresen, H. E. Wilson.

PLAN WORSE THAN LEAGUE, CLAIMS CALIFORNIAN IN ARGUMENT

Senator Moses Also Takes Stand Against Calling Economic Meeting

BULLETIN
WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—In the face of statements from administration senators that President Harding and Secretary of State Hughes are now engaged in formal discussions and delicate negotiations toward the calling of an economic conference, the Borah amendment to the naval bill requesting the president to call such a conference was killed this afternoon without ever coming to a vote.

Senators Lodge and Watson, speaking for the administration, has assured Senator Borah that the government is now moving in the direction desired by him. Borah said that he had no desire to "retard progress" and he announced he would not push his amendment to a vote.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.

With caustic denunciation and stinging irony, two of the former "irreconcilables," associates of Senator Borah in the historic League of Nations battle—Senators Moses of New Hampshire and Johnson of California—this afternoon poured the vials of this disapproval on Borah's proposal for a world economic and disarmament conference.

"I am against it," said Johnson, "because, in even greater degree and with less safeguards than the League of Nations gave to us, it would embroil us in European controversies and finally make the United States, after 150 years, a part of the European system."

For the United States to attempt to sit in the European game Moses declared, would mean it would have to act as umpire between England and Belgium on one side and France and Italy on the other, in the reparations muddle.

"Our national game," he said, "daily demonstrates the unenviable position the empire occupies. I have no desire to see Uncle Sam 'beaten' by a pop bottle thrown from the European bleachers."

Tear Up Treaty

Only by tearing up or re-writing the Versailles treaty can any conference "produce a satisfactory or efficient solution of the ills of Europe" and "eliminate the greed which marks every paragraph," he declared.

"Had we thrust our hands into the abhorrent mess of Europe's problems at the outset, through ratification of the Versailles treaty, it may be that the power of our influence would have made that instrument operative," Moses continued. "Even so, it would have been at the cost of others, and it is improbable some of the consequences which now confront the world could have been obviated in any event. If we now take up the task it is certain the cost and consequences will recoil only upon ourselves, and until Europe sees fit to become just there is no occasion for us to be unduly generous."

Harding Hints

"The implications of what is now proposed cannot be winked out of sight. The letter of the president contains some hint of them. If we engaged in any conference such as is outlined, or in any conference held prior to some earnest attempt on Europe's part to clean her own house, we shall find ourselves in the anomalous and disagreeable position of making decisions between two equally balanced groups of contenders."

Johnson declared the Borah proposal, if adopted, would mean "every European now is suffering from, every problem, there existing, every dismal situation, every wrong and injustice, would be brought to Washington for solution."

Calls It Dream

"I would prefer a league of nations to this general omnibus endeavor, which has neither limitations nor specifications," Johnson added. "Just one thing may be done to aid Europe, and this possibly in some minds is the nub of the whole matter. We might minister to Europe's needs, and assist her restoration by lending her more money. I suppose certain gentlemen engaged in international banking hug the delusion our government may underwrite their loans they make in Europe, but their hopes are an iridescent dream."

TRAFFIC CASE OF MEETING IS HELD TWO L. A. MEN CONTINUED

Hearing of Harry Miner and Chauffeur Comes Up in Court Today

A continuance until today was granted by Judge Harold Ide Cruzan in Eagle Rock traffic court, when Prosecuting Attorney McNitt said it was impossible for two of his material witnesses to be present at that time, one being in New York City and the other in Pasadena. This was the case of the People vs. Harry M. Miner. By agreement of attorneys, the case against William Klopff, a prominent Los Angeles resident, was also continued for a day. The cases dovetail, Miner being Klopff's chauffeur.

Officer Ted McMahon made complaint against the two defendants early in October and the case was set for trial on October 27. At that time it was continued for a time and had been continued at different times since.

McMahon charges that the Klopff car, driven by Miner, ran him into the ditch, while in discharge of his duty, and that when he attempted to have Miner sign a ticket for his appearance in court, Klopff objected strenuously and refused to allow his chauffeur to comply with the request.

The defendants are represented by Attorney Kilroy of the southern California automobile club. Attorney McNitt of Eagle Rock is looking after the state's side.

Asks For Continuance

In asking for a continuance yesterday, Attorney McNitt stated that Officer Clayton of the Glendale police force was a very important witness for the state. Three trips to Glendale had been made Wednesday to serve him with a subpoena, but the officers had been unable to locate him at the time. It was later ascertained that Wednesday was Clayton's day off and that he was in Pasadena. Mr. McNitt stated they were unable to produce the witness at that time and for that reason.

Attorneys for defendants opposed an extension of time but agreed to a continuance if the prosecution would have read into the records the testimony to be given by Clayton. This was after the defendant's attorneys had stated that they had nine witnesses for the defense and it would work a great hardship upon these individuals to be required to appear in court again today. Judge Cruzan then ordered a continuance to 9 o'clock Friday morning. Also, that all witnesses be required to report without further notice.

ELEVEN-YEAR-OLD 'RUNAWAY' GIRL RETURNED HOME

Mildred Barrus is Found by Officer Roy McClay;
Missing Two Days

"Why did you leave home?" was a question little 11-year-old Mildred Barrus refused to answer when brought to the city hall in Eagle Rock Thursday night by Officer Roy McClay. She was picked up by the officer shortly past 5 o'clock. McClay espied Mildred standing on the corner of South Central avenue and Colorado boulevard as he sped by in his car. He took the little girl back to the city hall.

Thus ended a frantic search of thirty-six hours' duration by the foster parents of the child, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Magman, of 1578 Hillandale street, and by interested neighbors and the police force of the city of Eagle Rock.

Mildred arose from her bed shortly before 7 o'clock Wednesday morning, some moments before the rest of the household was astir. She bundled up one of her nice dresses—one that Santa brought—and four nighties; put on her everyday dress, an old pair of slippers; slipped an old brown coat over all; placed an old corduroy cap on her bobbed yellow curls; stuck a story book in each of the side pockets of her coat and after writing a letter to her mother, saying that she was running away and was never, never coming back, stole out of the front door and disappeared.

Disappeared Completely
That was the last seen of little Miss Mildred, so far as her parents and friends were concerned, until last evening when she was safely returned to her arms by the police department of Eagle Rock.

Mrs. Magman seemed nearly frantic with grief and anxiety over the disappearance of the little girl when seen by a reporter at her home yesterday afternoon. She said it was the greatest surprise of her life when she arose Wednesday morning and found the child gone. She immediately instituted a search among the neighbors, then searched Eagle Rock, Glendale and Pasadena without result. Her greatest concern, she stated, was that Mildred would fall into the hands of unscrupulous men or boys.

"Mildred had as fine a home as we were able to give her," said Mrs. Magman. "There stands the Christmas tree that we fixed for her and our 7-year-old son, Victor." And sure enough, there it stood in all its holiday glory. Scattered under the tree and hanging from its branches were numerous toys and 11-year-old girls. Much evidence that a mother and father had tried their best to make their children happy on the day of all days—Christmas.

Judge Lindsey's Ward
Mrs. Magman then explained that Mildred was not their own child. Judge Ben Lindsey of Denver had placed her in their hands when her own parents abandoned her three years ago. Two years ago in July the family moved to Los Angeles. It had been the intention of both Mr. and Mrs. Magman to adopt the child, but papers had never been made out up to this time. They had clothed her nicely, sent her to school and in every way tried to make life pleasant for the little waif, both declared Mrs. Magman.

The first clue to the whereabouts of Mildred came Thursday afternoon when a telephone call from the auto camp on Kenilworth avenue to the police station, said that a little girl who said she had run away from home had been given a meal by one of the campers. Investigation proved this to be Mildred.

The attention of Mrs. F. E. Brown, residing in one of the cottages, was directed to Mildred who was sitting in the crotch of a tree and weeping bitterly. Upon being approached the girl stated she had run away from home and was hungry. After getting on the outside of a good meal, Mildred told of leaving home and of having slept in the weeds back of the library building the night before. She said her mother abused her and she was never going back. Mrs. Brown was unable to persuade the girl to remain at the camp until she could get in touch with her parents, so did the next best thing and phoned the officers.

Mildred presented a pitiful and frightened appearance when she was brought to the city hall. She was warmly clad but appeared weak from exposure and hunger. She still clung to her bundle, but had changed from her old into her new dress. The two story books each reposed in a side pocket of her coat, and she admitted having spent some pleasant moments in the perusal of their contents.

After leaving the auto camp she had walked to Glendale, then back to Eagle Rock, in order, she said, "to sleep back of the library." Tomorrow, said the runaway, "I was going to the beach." She stoutly maintained that she did not want to return home and expressed a great fear of her foster mother. "Father," she said, "is always good to me."

As soon as the girl's whereabouts were known, Mr. and Mrs. Magman were notified by the officers. Mrs. Magman and Mrs. F. E. Brown came after the child at once. The former expressed the belief that she would be unable to control the girl from now on and would probably turn her over to the juvenile court in Los Angeles at once.

CASE IN TRAFFIC COURT PUT OVER THIRD TIME

Hearing of David Title, of
L. A., Postponed Until January 6

The case of the People of California vs. David Title, which was set for December 29 at 10 o'clock, was continued by Judge Harold Ide Cruzan at Eagle Rock until January 6, at 10 a. m.

The fifty dollar cash bond that Title deposited for appearance ten days ago was allowed to stand.

Title, who claims to be a manager of one of the branch stores of the Platt Music company of Los Angeles, was arrested on the charge of reckless driving. He deposited fifty dollars for his appearance in court last Saturday, December 23, but failed to put in an appearance. A bench warrant was then issued for his arrest and the trial set for December 28.

MARRIAGE RUMOR ENDED
HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Dec. 29.—Frank Godsel, president of the Goldwyn Film Production corporation, through his studio representative Joseph Jackson, today put an end to a published report that he and Dorothy Dalton, film star, were engaged to be married.

"It is news to me," Godsel said through Jackson. "I have a wife living in New York at present and neither of us have started divorce proceedings. The report is ridiculous."

HEADS COMMERCE BOARD
WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—Balthazar H. Meyer of Wisconsin today was selected chairman of the interstate commerce commission for a term of one year.

Meyer is the senior member of the commission. He succeeds Charles H. McChord of Kentucky.

JAMES RHOADES GETS $200 FINE

Court Assesses Secretary of C. of C. for Winking at Trial Defendant

James M. Rhoades, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, yesterday was fined $200 in the court of Superior Judge John W. Sherk, Los Angeles, for several smiles and winks that he spent on Madalynne C. Obenchain, during her recent trial for murder.

Mr. Rhoades sat on the Obenchain case as a juror. He was cited for contempt proceedings for unbecoming conduct during Mrs. Obenchain's last trial, it being charged that he disregarded the admonition of the court by winking at the defendant and by shaking hands with her friends.

Three Exonerated
The contempt proceeding hearing was conducted Wednesday and yesterday. Three others cited in the contempt proceedings were exonerated and their cases were dismissed. They are:

Mrs. H. S. G. McCartney, wife of the Deputy District Attorney McCartney; Mrs. B. F. Scott, of Glendale, and Eva Harrison. Judge Sherk stated that there was no legal case against the foregoing. Regarding Juror Rhoades, he said:

"This conduct is reprehensible and tends to pervert the courts of justice, and it constitutes a direct disregard of the admonition of the court."

"This man had repeatedly smiled at the defendant during the course of the trial. He had gone over and shaken hands with her friends, and he had, while in the jury box, stated in the presence of other jurors that certain prosecution witnesses were unworthy of belief long before the case came to its conclusion, and in direct disregard of the court's instructions."

Ford Buys Holdings Of Big Coal Firm

BOSTON, Dec. 29.—T. B. Davis, president of the Pond Creek Coal company, following a special meeting of the board of directors, announced that the Ford Motor company interests had purchased the land and equipment of the company, located in Pike county, Ky. Delivery will be made, Mr. Davis stated, at the close of business December 30.

The directors confirmed the sale and called a special meeting of the stockholders to ratify their action.

NOTABLES ARRIVE ON VESSEL

(1) Mrs. Ida M. French, who recently won a $5,000,000 suit at law, told reporters that she would go almost directly to Palm Beach and later return to Europe. (2) The Hon. Joseph P. Tumulty, secretary to former President Wilson, returned after a hurried trip abroad, where he went for his daughter, who had been injured in an automobile crash. (3) The Princess Kapurthala, daughter of the Maharajah of Kapurthala. (4) Albert Thomas, director of the international labor office of the League of Nations, arrived to attend to official matters relative to his office. (5) General M. G. Menocal, former president of Cuba, returns after an extended visit abroad.

The Glendale

"The Fighting Streak," now showing at the Glendale Theatre with Tom Mix in the leading role, is a title that might be interpreted in several ways. But every one of them connotes abundant action and entertainment, as is generally the case with a Fox picture.

To call "The Fighting Streak" a typical Mix picture is perhaps not to be quite accurate; for there is nothing really typical about this vigorous actor's photoplays. They are always a bit different, and this one particularly so. For while the star manages to exhibit his usual daredevil riding stunts, he shows them in a character entirely new—that of a small town blacksmith.

Here is a story with a lot of heart interest, too, a beautiful girl and a sweet love story leading to many surprising twists.

Woodrow Wilson Receives Delegation

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—Henry Holt, chairman of the educational committee of the Woodrow Wilson foundation, and three other members of the committee, were informally received here by former President Wilson. The committee spent forty minutes at the Wilson home and while no information was given as to what transpired, it is understood Mr. Wilson expressed his deep appreciation of the outpouring of contributions to the foundation fund.

Teachers of Oregon Opposed to 'Fatty'

PORTLAND, Ore., Dec. 29.—The Oregon State Teachers' association expressed the hope that "Fatty" Arbuckle may never again appear on the screen, in a resolution just passed. "The whole country is a-fire over the recent decision of Will Hays," J. W. Crabtree, secretary of the National Education association, says in a telegram received by the association in session here.

Money spent in Glendale helps to make Glendale a bigger and better city.

The T. D. & L.

A distinctive all-star cast is to be seen at the T. D. & L. Theatre today, in the J. L. Frothingham production, "Shattered Idols," a screen adaptation of I. A. R. Wyllie's celebrated novel, "The Daughter of Brahma." The picture is directed by Edward Sloman. Among the celebrated players contributing to the success of this fine film are Marguerite De La Motte, James Morrison, William V. Mong, Louise Lovely, Ethel Grey Terry and the lovable and talented child actor, Frankie Lee.

In this thrilling tale of India's smoldering fires of discontent, all these noted players are seen at their best. In addition, a thousand native Hindus and hundreds of cavalrymen take part in the big scenes.

A magnificent production, of depth and feeling.

New Year's Will Be Traditional in S. F.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 29.—The new year will be celebrated in traditional fashion if a ruling of District Attorney Matthew L. Brady has anything to do with it.

"Permanent guests at a hotel may lawfully take liquor from their rooms to the dining room and there drink it," Brady says.

"This liquor may be given away at the discretion of the owner. The only hitch in the proceedings, it is pointed out, is that the liquor must be legally possessed by the resident of a hotel and the guest must be permanent."

Brady said that a man living at a hotel had as much right to consume liquor in the dining room as another person had to take liquor from the basement of a private house to the dinner table.

House Appropriates Indian School Fund

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—An appropriation of $880,000 for restoring burned buildings at Greenville, Indian school, California, is authorized by the house. At the request of Representative Raker, Democrat, California, this amount was added to the items carried in the Interior department appropriation bill providing for care and maintenance of Indian schools.

Bay City Vigilants Vote to Bar 'Fatty'

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 29.—The Woman's vigilance committee, which followed closely the prosecution here of Roscoe "Fatty" Arbuckle, has adopted resolutions opposing the reappearance of the comedian on the screen. The committee split badly on the question, many urging that Arbuckle should be given "another chance."

The World Over

By FRANKLIN B. MORSE.
PACIFIC SPORTS SERVICE

With the absence of the international competition for the America's Cup, general interest in Yachting was confined to the series of races between the American Schooner, Henry Ford, and the Bluenose for the championship of the Atlantic fleet. The Canadian sloop, the Bluenose came out victorious.

While Sir Thomas Lipton has indicated that he is not yet through with his attempts for the America's cup, it also seems certain that it will be 1924 before the baronet makes another assault on the blue ribbon trophy of the seas. All international yacht competition aside from this event receives but scant general attention.

As far as sectional yachting is concerned, the clubs on both the Pacific and Atlantic shores, as well as lake clubs of the interior, had extremely successful seasonal sport, and carried on their usual annual regattas and cruises. The memberships as well as the boats are growing in number practically everywhere.

Polo
The effort being made throughout the country to attract the general public to an appreciation of polo has been partially successful, but it is going to take more than a single season of play to popularize a sport which has been given the name of being exclusively for the rich.

The Argentine polo club which invaded the country was the particular magnet to attract interest and a number of successful tournaments were held in the East, notably at Meadowbrook and Rumson. Interest on the Pacific coast is keeping pace with the East, in a similar campaign of popularizing the game being in operation. In this connection a Pacific Coast circuit has been arranged which will provide for a series of competitive tournaments in a half dozen cities of the coast. This is likely to take on an international flavor in 1923 with the inclusion of a number of teams from British Columbia.

Probably no year in the last two decades saw a greater effort being made than in 1922 to develop good mounts. The dearth of good ponies a few years ago when the United States was called on to play against England seems to have stirred the powers that be to the need of preparation. California is on the job in this connection. Next year gives promise of more international competition as advices from England are to the effect that a number of British teams are making arrangements for an American invasion.

Bicycling
There has been no advance in bicycling other than the running off of the regular annual fixtures which have attracted their usual patronage. Followers of the sport claim that it is gaining ground which seems likely. At least there has been no retrogression. There is less interest on the Pacific coast than in the East where championship meets and six day events continue to attract. Efforts in this direction in the Far West have proven abortive.

Pancho Villa and Martin to Contest

NEW YORK, Dec. 29.—Pancho Villa, American flyweight champion, will meet Terry Martin of Providence, R. I., in a fifteen round feature bout here tonight. No title is at stake. In the semi-final Babe Herman of California will face Hughey Hutchinson of Philadelphia, and another attraction will bring together "Pickles" Martin of California, and Jimmy Carroll of New York.

Scott Team Arrives For Title Battle

PORTLAND, Ore., Dec. 29.—The Scott High school team of Toledo, Ohio, arrived here this morning for workouts prior to the championship struggle on New Year's day with Corvallis high school at Corvallis, Ore. The Toledoans will leave Sunday for Corvallis. Both eleven are undefeated.

The News ads produce results.

BAMBINO GOES BACK TO SOIL

Babe Ruth is keeping his promise to the scribes whom he met at a dinner recently, assuring them that he was through with the gay life. The king of the swat has retired to the "bushes," one might say, among the cows and chickens, to get himself in condition for next year's pill-swallowing.

The Sport Crucible

By Davis J. Walsh
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Dec. 29.—Diplomatic revival of the Dempsey-Kills proposition is in order when Jack Kearns arrives in New York in a glow of self-satisfaction and a cut-away coat, some weeks hence. This is the good word that has gone out among the fistic life. From sources unknown higher up, the tip has been given that all is well and the interested parties may proceed with their plans without fear of indiscreet interruptions.

At Smith, the new governor, is said to look with a tolerant eye upon the proposal. At any rate, he is believed to be in a receptive mood and in no wise inclined to interfere as long as the law is obeyed. Gentlemen of the press, therefore, may expect to be duly informed almost any time now that public demand for the match can be restrained no longer.

It is believed that Kearns is convinced neither Floyd Johnson nor Luis Firpo can be built up in a convincing attraction before the summer months and realizing that Dempsey is gaining nothing by his protracted illness, is ready to do business with the first real contender that happens along. The latter and Harry Wills are one and the same.

The bout will be put on, if nothing unforeseen occurs, in New York during the coming summer and it is possible that the Polo grounds will be the scene of the affair. Tex Rickard, of course, will be a conspicuous bidder, but unless he can get the Yankee stadium, may not care to erect a new arena capable of accommodating a crowd such as would witness a bout of this magnitude. Jersey City is regarded as an impractical site because the New Jersey law will not countenance a charge of more than $15 for the best seats.

Wills may take part in a bout or two in the meantime, just as a "convincer," if any is needed.

COLLEGIANS' TEAM MAY GO TO PARIS

American Athletic Association Wants Representation at Field Meet

NEW YORK, Dec. 29.—A team of American collegians will go abroad next spring to compete in a track and field meet in Paris, if the recommendations offered today at the annual meeting of the national collegiate athletic association are accepted. The plan was proposed in the annual report of the executive committee which suggested that the invitation issued by French authorities be accepted and a committee appointed to cover all details of the trip and select a team.

Nearly 200 delegates from various sections of the country were in attendance when the convention was opened by General Palmer E. Pierce, president of the association.

Continue War on Evil
General Pierce took occasion to point out in his annual report that the war being waged on gambling, professionalism, proselytism and evasion of eligibility rules in college athletics would go on until these evils were effectually stamped out. He said that improvement had been noted in this connection during the year coming to a close.

In spite of protests said to have been entered by several members of the western conference, it was indicated that the annual track and field championships of the association will be held in Chicago again next season. The executive committee also recommended that the next meeting be awarded to New Orleans but owing to objections offered by New England delegates, decision on this was postponed.

Home merchants make it a point to please you. There is satisfaction in buying in Glendale.

Final Workouts for Classic Held Today

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 29.—All was in readiness today for the second of the three post-season inter-sectional football classics played on the coast this season.

At Stanford both University of Pittsburgh and the Stanford eleven had their final workouts today for their meeting tomorrow.

Clear, cool weather is forecast for the game. Rain which earlier in the week threatened to mar the event is over and the weather man today promised an ideal day for tomorrow.

Neither Pop Warner nor Andy Kerr were making any predictions and it was generally believed the game would be hard fought. Warner occupies the enviable position of "heads I win, tails you lose." He is both head coach of the Pitt team and chief advisory coach of the western institution.

The only players on the injured list are Art Wilcox of Stanford's great plunging fullback and Holloran, Pitt's sensational quarterback. Wilcox probably will start but may not be able to finish the contest. Holloran may get into the game a few minutes if his own wishes count.

Interest is high in the contest and the odds indicate the crowd will be large.

Eight Power Boats Start in First Heat
LOS ANGELES HARBOR, Cal., Dec. 29.—The speedboat championship of the Pacific coast was at stake today when eight power boats answered the starting gun off Los Angeles harbor for the first thirty-mile heat of the mid-winter classic for power boat supremacy.

With a situation of friendly rivalry in existence, a flying start was scheduled for 11 a. m. over a three-mile triangular course with one stake turns.

SPORTS CHATTER

By BILL UNMACK
PACIFIC SPORTS SERVICE

Speaking generally, swimming proved one of the most popular sports of 1922, though, from a competitive point of view, some parts of the country found themselves in somewhat of a slump. This is particularly true of certain Pacific coast points, and especially 'round San Francisco bay where the great interest that attained in swimming up to last year appears to have started on a downward grade.

The reason for this may be ascribed to some internal conditions among the swimmers themselves and their objections to methods of conducting meets. Early in this year there was a decided slump in swimming circles and the Western Swimming association was formed to conduct sport as an "outlaw" body. The movement failed, however, but the undercurrent of discontent had its effect in a general way on swimming.

Elsewhere in the country the swimming competitive sport has thrived and in the east particularly it has had its most successful year. Intercollegiate swimming also has been brilliantly successful throughout the year and many new National intercollegiate records have been established.

The year has been a brilliant individual achievement of success after success for Johnny Weismuller of the Illinois A. C., who, single-handed, broke thirty-eight records or those marks classed as noteworthy performances. In 1922 a total of forty records of the past have been established by both men and women and this year Weismuller himself accounted for exactly half that number while eighteen noteworthy performances are credited to him. We have had our Charlie Daniels, our McGillyvray, our Kahanamoku, our Ross's, our Ludy Langers and others, but none of these great champions of the past have done what Johnny Weismuller has this year. Every standard American record and most of them world records from 50 yards to 440 yards, are now held by Weismuller, and they were all established this year, some of them being reduced two and three times.

At the annual meeting of the A. A. U. in New York last November a total of one hundred and fifteen swimming records were placed before the National swimming committee for their acceptance. Some of these were duplicates, or rather records, for the same distance for the same time or bettered time made in tanks in various parts of the country by the same swimmer. The total list covers both men and women records.

What Weismuller is to the male section of swimming, so has Helen Wainwright of New York proved herself to the girls' section. She has broken innumerable records, but she has not obliterated all other swimmers of her sex as Johnny Weismuller has done. Miss Wainwright can justly be claimed the greatest girl swimmer of the year 1922, but she has a number of rivals close on her heels who are also in the limelight as champions and record breakers of different events. Included in these stars are Sybil Bauer of Chicago, Gertrude Ederle of New York, Irene Quest of Philadelphia, Dorothy Lineer of San Francisco, Marie Curtis and Thelma Finn both of Los Angeles.

In all-round swimming, the Illinois A. C. of Chicago easily out-ranked all other clubs of the country. The majority of the important national championships were won by Weismuller and other members of this club with the result that the National team championship goes to the Illinois boys coached by the popular and world-famed Bill Bachrach. The most important single championship of the Illinois team lost was the water polo title, the New York A. C. team taking this away from the Chicago men.

The women's national team title was just as easily won by the New York Women's Swimming association team as the Illinois boys copped the men's title. This girls' club under the direction of Miss Epstein has been one of the most prominent girl swimming clubs of the country for some years and its continued series of success and the number of real champions developed makes it today stand a unique position in swimming the world over.

The Pacific coast has shone brilliantly in one branch of swimming, namely diving. Both the high and the springboard diving have been captured by coast men. Al White of Stanford university and the San Francisco Olympic club annexing the spring board title and the veteran and world champion, Clarence Pinkston, winning the high diving.

On the Pacific coast the annual coast championships were held at Coronado Tent City, San Diego and won by the Olympic club of

Side Talks by Ruth Cameron

IF I WERE A SALESWOMAN
If I were a saleswoman (and if I had several lives to lead trying the different occupations that appeal to me, part of one would certainly be spent in a shop observing human nature as the saleswoman observes it, studying the fascinating psychology of buying and selling as she alone has an opportunity to study it, and trying to see how much of a success I could make of the great art of selling)—these are some of the things I think I should do.

Condemn Some Dress
If I tried on several dresses I should say of some one of them, provided it was true, (and in nine cases out of ten it would be). "No, you don't want that dress. It's not your style." From the customer's standpoint I can say that nothing establishes one's confidence in a saleswoman more than that because it makes one feel that she is not praising indiscriminately but really trying to help you get what suits you. Secondly, if possible, I should like to see the customer wear, her shoes, her hats, her hair, her gown. Of course this would have to be done tactfully and gracefully in order not to give offense rather than pleasure to the fastidious woman, but it can be done. And when it is, it establishes an immediate bond between saleswoman and customer.

Most of Us Have to
I should try to remember (I think I should) that I had to spend carefully myself and not to despise the customer that had to do the same. No one likes to have to ask for something less expensive. Everyone is grateful to the saleswoman who makes it as easy instead of as hard as possible.

I don't think I should sweep a customer over with an obviously calculating glance and then bring her out inexpensive dresses. I think I should try to draw from her before bringing out the dresses as nearly as possible the type of

I, I, I, MYSELF, I THE HISTORY OF ME BY ME Cradle Cap or Milk Crust

Did you have a merry Christmas? Mine was the loveliest I ever had in all my life. When I think of the babe Jesus being wrapped in swaddling cloths as all babies were in His time, I am glad that we have advanced in our ideas of how to care for babies. I think it is lovely that we always celebrate His birthday by gifts of cheer and good will. I got so many gifts from my loving friends and family that I have come to last me some years. Many of my playthings of the past are treasured better later, for a lot of only three months is not yet very keen on playing with anything but his own wonderful hands. But I shall tell you more about what playthings we babies like later.

Today I promised to tell you what to do for that troublesome condition babies sometimes have known as cradle cap or milk crust. I never have been bothered with it and perhaps it is because my Mama has the habit of putting a little cold cream, vaseline or oil on my scalp always after she washes it—which she does two or three times a week. But sometimes a crust will appear even with usual care, and then unusual care must be used to get rid of it. It seems that this crust is due to a little inflammation of the sebaceous glands of the scalp. The sebaceous glands are the glands of the skin and scalp that furnish the oil. They get a little inflamed and secrete more oil and this hardens and forms a crust, sometimes quite dense if it is not treated right away.

It is of course, very very ugly and Mamas hate it and babies hate it even worse because it is very itchy and uncomfortable. Unusually the head that wears a cradle cap. If your baby should get one of these disagreeable crusts, Doctor says you may be able to get rid of it by cutting off the baby's hair, stop washing its scalp, and soften the crust with a thick layer of cold cream applied twice a day. Put a piece of soft

BEAUTY CHATS

COLORED HAIR POWDERS

Almost every woman has a tendency to wash her hair too often, in order to keep it soft and fluffy and glossy. It is a great mistake, for in the end, it tells upon the hair's good health. But, you will say, after one or two weeks my hair becomes so oily and flat, it packs so it cannot be dressed nicely—I know, there are dozens of objections. I get them in nearly every mail. The solution is to use powder between shampoos, to dry up this extra oil, to keep the hair thick and fluffy, and to cleanse it. You'll say to this—powder can cleanse only the hair, not the scalp. That's true, but the scalp is so well protected it doesn't need

Dry shampoo powders match the hair too frequent a cleansing. You'll say more seriously—powder leaves the hair dusty, it's almost impossible to get it out, it takes off all the gloss.

Not colored hair powders, which smart beauty shops sell at the most exorbitant rates—and only a few shops at that. You probably won't be able to buy colored powder—but you can make it yourself by following these simple directions.

If you've dark hair, make an exceedingly strong pint of coffee and strain and let it get cold. Add lumps of laundry starch, let them dissolve, pour off the liquid, let it drain and dry. Crush up the colored starch, until soft and free of lumps, add sachet powder to do away with any odor, and keep ready for use. If you've light hair, try strong tea.

Then dust the hair liberally with powder, rub through, shake and brush out. I've had all sorts of trouble with oily hair, and this I find the best remedy. It's my own invention," as the White Knight said to Alice.

Justice Is America's Hope, Says Jurist

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—The hope of America lies in the maintenance of "impartial and independent" tribunals of justice, William R. Day, retiring justice of the United States supreme court says in a letter of farewell to his fellow justices.

Justice Day's letter was in reply to a "round robin" letter to him signed by all the justices in which they expressed admiration for his twenty-five years of judicial work, now incorporated in sixty-seven volumes of supreme court reports.

Scientists Produce Short Radio Waves

BOSTON, Dec. 29.—It is now possible to produce radio waves a fifth of an inch long, Dr. Ernest Fox Nichols, director of pure science at the Nelsa Laboratories of Cleveland, told the scientists attending the American Association for the Advancement of Science convention. Waves a foot in length described recently by Marconi, had been considered the shortest possible.

Gasoline Production
Approximately 5,400,000,000 gallons of gasoline will be produced in the United States this year. About 4,320,000,000 gallons of gasoline will be produced, or 80 per cent of the total, will be used in automobiles.

Practical Housekeeping by Florence Austin Chase

TURNING OVER A NEW LEAF

Now is the time for making "New Year Resolutions" or the time for "Turning over a new leaf," and beginning a new page. "Turning over a new leaf" means more careful planning for the new year, so that we may make fewer mistakes and achieve greater success.

This desire to "turn over a new leaf" is very keen among readers of "Practical Housekeeping," and we feel that we can wipe out our past mistakes and do better this year with a fresh start. And that brings us to the "Household Budget" and household expenses generally, and the matter of keeping accounts.

Managing means the charge of waste as well as the first use of everything. It is in the department of management that the wreck of the home happiness comes and financial anxiety with an incompetent manager. A good manager keeps things comfortable. Her mind is easy and she therefore produces ease. She needs no advice but gives it to those who cannot manage, time, duties or money successfully.

System is the secret of good management, and it extends to the smallest detail of home affairs. It softens greatly the jolts of difficult experiences.

I am very glad, indeed, to find so many of our younger housewives interested in careful management and that they are overcoming their distaste for "keeping household accounts." Since the aim in keeping household accounts is to register the amounts spent for various purposes so that all phases of life will be considered and so that the manager will be able to profit the second year because of the experiences of the first year, the time and effort spent on them are well worth while. Keeping accurate accounts makes housekeeping interesting and businesslike. The expenditure is made to produce the maximum of value received and is accompanied by the greatest possible pleasure.

Everyone is surely familiar with the divisions of the budget—rent, shelter, food, clothing, operating, advancement, luxuries, savings. The amount to be spent on any one division depends on the income, the number of persons in the family and, to a certain extent, the standard of living. The matter of budgeting a family income is really an individual problem. Broadly speaking, however, in incomes of between $1,500 and $2,500 not more than 20 per cent should be spent on shelter (rent or its equivalent in taxes, insurance, etc.) and car fare to and from the home, which must be counted as rent. In the same class of incomes we can allow 30 per cent as the maximum to be spent on food, while on a small income not more than one-third of the total money must be spent. Not more than 15 per cent should be spent on clothing. Operating expenses necessary to keep the house clean, warm, lighted, and in constant repair, may be allotted 10 per cent. Advancement division covers cost of

by Edgar Rice Burroughs

Billy took the other's hand. He noticed that Bridge hadn't said what he was running away from. Billy wondered; but asked no questions.

South they went after they had the city behind, out into the sweet and silent darkness of the country. During the night they crossed the line into Kansas, and morning found them in a beautiful, hilly country to which all thoughts of cities, crime, and police seemed so utterly foreign that Billy could scarce believe that only a few hours before a Chicago detective had been less than a hundred feet from him.

The new sun burst upon them as they topped a grassy hill. The dew-bespangled blades scintillated beneath the gorgeous rays which would presently sweep them away again into the nothingness from which they had sprung.

Bridge halted and stretched himself. He threw his head back and let the warm sun beat down upon his bronzed face.

There's sunshine in the heart of me,

My blood sings in the breeze;

The mountains are a part of me,

I'm fellow to the trees.

My golden youth I'm squandering,

Sun-lit time am I;

A-wandering, a-wandering,

Until the day I die.

And then he stood for minutes drinking in deep breaths of the pure, sweet air of the new day.

Beside him, a head taller, savagely

strong, stood Billy Byrne, his broad shoulders squared, his great chest expanding as he inhaled.

"It's great, ain't it?" he said, at last. "I never knew two country

I ever would have known it if it hadn't been for those poet guys you're always spouting.

"I always had an idea they was

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Hellyer of 365 West Milford street entertained Mrs. Hellyer's father, E. J. Dodge on Christmas day. A turkey dinner was served at midday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Baker, 331 North Maryland avenue, entertained recently Mr. Baker's Sunday school. There were twenty-four young men and women present.

Friends of Mrs. G. A. Archer, 523 East Lomita street, helped her celebrate her birthday anniversary Thursday evening. There were eighteen guests present at the birthday dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Jahns and their children, Eleanor and Edmund of 459 Salem street, partook of their Christmas day turkey with Mrs. Jahns' sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. D. H. MacDonald of Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Hamlin and children, Edward, Herbert, Jeanette and Richard of 315 North Louise street, returned yesterday from Avalon, where they had been since Tuesday with a group of relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Isaac, 501 North Maryland avenue, have returned from a trip to the top of Mt. Lowe. Although they have lived in California for more than twenty years they had never made the trip before and were delightedly surprised in the enjoyment of the journey.

John McVior, 1448 East Colorado avenue, is expecting to be able to use his right arm again soon, although he still has to carry it in a sling. He is slowly improving. Mr. McVior broke his right shoulder when a ladder slipped and he fell from the roof of a building which is being moved in order to help in the improvement of the streets in that neighborhood.

Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Curtis, 727 East Palmer street, will entertain for Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Dick, a bride and groom, who were married last week, at a turkey dinner this evening. This will also be in honor of Mr. Dick's parents of England who came to the wedding and will spend a few months in California. Mr. and Mrs. Dick will leave next week for Mexico City where they will make their home.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Everett of 532 Spencer place entertained at dinner on Wednesday night the following guests, Mrs. Everett's mother and family, Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Goertz and children, Linda, Frida and Willard of 347 North Central avenue, Mrs. Goertz's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Wiebe, and Mrs. Goertz's married son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Goertz.

Mr. and Mrs. James C. Tobias, of 210 East Palmer avenue, held a family reunion and turkey dinner at their home on Christmas day. Among those entertained were Mrs. Tobias' brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. H. Monnette, Mr. and Mrs. Tobias' daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Philpott, and their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. B. D. Tobias and son John and daughter Cathryn, all of Glendale.

Christian Circle Club Holds Meeting

The Christian Circle club met last night at the Christian church, where the women of the First Presbyterian church served supper. The First Methodist church had the largest number of girls present. Miss Florence Hamilton conducted a short business meeting and later Miss Soper led the Bible lesson for the New Year.

Trade with home merchants.

ATTENTION! HAMILTON UNIT HOLDERS

We wish to announce that we are now taking reservations for Hamilton No. 5, and that they are going fast. Would advise that you or any of your friends get in touch with this office and we will be glad to take you down to the field. Hamilton No. 4 is flowing better than 2100 barrels per day and we expect to pay you a much larger check next month. Wishing you a Happy New Year.

AMERICAN INDIAN HABITS ARE TOLD

Mrs. M. B. Buckman Relates Story to Home Mission Church Society

The December meeting of the Home Mission society of the Central Methodist Episcopal church was held yesterday afternoon at the home of the president, Mrs. M. B. Buckman, 1141 Winchester avenue. The meeting was opened with a reading of the minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. J. Dickerson. Letters from David and Margaret Home were read. They told of the needs of the institution.

Mrs. Dickerson gave an interesting review of the lesson study for the month, on "Negro Literature and the Penny Banns."

Mrs. Buckman then gave an entertaining half hour talk on the habits and customs of the numerous tribes of American Indians, as she related them from her experiences when traveling with her father, whose business took him over the west a number of years ago. She was dressed in costume, modeled from one made by a squaw of the Mohawk tribe. She explained many of the her days spent among the Indians.

Displays Souvenirs
Included in the display were moccasins of Shoshones, made of deer skin, heavily beaded, with reindeer hide soles; a curious bag, which is carried by squaws for carrying bone needles with which they do the bead work.

She also described the acorn racks, and habitations of the Monos and many other interesting features of the red man's existence in his natural haunts.

At the close of the program the hostess served delicious dates from Coachella, and candy. Rev. Julius Soper was a special guest of the occasion.

Tournament Squads Doing Light Work

PASADENA, Cal., Dec. 29.—Continued light workout was the program today at the Pasadena and U. S. C. eleven who clash Monday in the annual East-West football classic in the Tournament of Roses.

Both Coach Hugo Bezdek of Penn State and Coach "Gloomy" Gus Henderson smiled today after their crews had been put through their paces and declared their men were in fine condition and ready for the tussle.

Weather conditions of a cloudy overhead proved a good advantage for the eastern outfit and Coach Bezdek drove his men through their tricks with all possible speed.

Practice today took on added interest when Tom Thorpe, famous eastern football authority, appeared on the field at Rose bowl to give the teams the "eagle eye."

SOCIAL EVENT

White Shrine Party

The Omar chapter of the White Shrine of Jerusalem gave their annual Christmas party Wednesday night at the Masonic Temple, 232 South Brand boulevard. About 100 were present.

A fine turkey dinner, ample, varied and satisfying, was served at 6:30 o'clock, after which a very interesting and well balanced program was given, consisting among other numbers, of a vocal solo by D. Ripley Jackson, a reading by George Pierce, a vocal solo by Mrs. Porter Custer, a dance by Eleanor Marek, a reading by Mrs. Pearl Chambers, a dance by Miss Lois Naudain, a vocal solo by Mrs. Porter Custer, accompanied on the clarinet by George Pierce, and a reading by Frank Bourne.

Following the program Santa Claus, alias Warren Roberts, distributed a toy to each child. Whereafter the evening was given over to dancing.

Chapter Meeting

The annual Christmas party of the alumni chapter of Beta Phi chapter of the U. S. C. was held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Max L. Green, 528 North Maryland avenue. Mrs. North Penland and Mrs. Martha Meading assisted as hostesses.

Twenty-seven U. S. C. graduates were present, together with fifteen Beta Phi children and babies.

Mrs. Charles Scott of South Pasadena, one of the charter members of Beta Phi in the U. S. C., was the recipient of chief honors, having with her five out of her six children.

Decorations were in poinsettias, holly and mountain juniper. Refreshments were served and each kiddie presented with a toy balloon. The party, which was the first of its kind, was a very enjoyable affair.

Hold Family Reunion

Mrs. J. A. Stevens and her daughter, Miss Helen Stevens, of 425 West Ivy street, entertained at their home on Christmas day with a family reunion. The decorations, which were quite exquisite, included a lovely Christmas tree around which the guests gathered after dinner for the distribution of presents.

Those present included Mrs. Stevens' husband, J. A. Stevens, who has been in Santa Ana some time, her sister, Mrs. Sarah Kane, of Glendale, a cousin, Mrs. W. A. Hoyt of Fayette, Iowa, and the Stephens children and families, Dr. H. J. Stevens and his son, Newell, of Los Angeles, another son and family, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Porter and daughter, Brewster, of Pasadena, and a daughter, Jeanette, of Burbank.

Home for Holidays

Miss Mildred McKee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. McKee of 130 West Chestnut street, who is home from the University of California for the holidays, is entertaining her friend, Miss Ida Hewton, also a university student.

They left today for the McKee cottage at Hermosa Beach, where they will spend today and Saturday with Mrs. McKee and daughters, Rhodora and Martelle. They will return to Glendale Sunday night.

Others at the party at the beach cottage will be Misses Esther Besant, Madeline Love, Mildred Ross and Marjorie Gunyan.

Holiday Guest

Mrs. C. G. Woods of 1610 Grand View avenue has had as a holiday guest her nephew, Addison P. McKelvy of Atchison, Kansas, who is a student at Leland Stanford university. Christmas week-end Mrs. Woods and Mr. McKelvy motored to Riverside, where they visited with Mrs. Woods' son, Samuel McKelvy and family, at the Glendale Mission Inn.

Mrs. Woods entertained Wednesday night with dinner complimentary to Mr. McKelvy. Guests at New Year's day dinner at the Woods home will be Mrs. Ida Davis and daughters of Los Angeles.

Hold Open House

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Girard of 245 South Orange street, are holding "open house" over the holidays to a large number of relatives and friends. Almost every day brings some new guest or two for an hour or so. The house is very attractively decorated and a big Christmas tree is a feature of interest.

Among those who have passed in and out are Mr. Girard's brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Girard, and his sisters and families, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Bruhl and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kemp.

Returns to Home

Mrs. Hattie Gaylord of 1218 East Stanley avenue returned Wednesday night after having spent several days visiting with friends and relatives in Los Angeles, Redondo and Pasadena. She was a guest of her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Liscumb of Los Angeles, with whom she enjoyed Christmas dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Smith Beal of Redondo. Christmas night she attended the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Terpening of Pasadena.

Gives 'Kid Party'

Mrs. Frank Eck, 1233 Hague Place, entertained at her home on Thursday night with a "Kid Party," each of her twenty friends attending in a costume suitable to a child of fourteen or younger. One of the first of the many novel ceremonies was the selection of a candy cane from the big Christmas tree, each cane bearing a kid nickname by which the selector was known the balance of the evening.

Many styles and features of dancing were presented, to the great amusement of all present, and numerous children's games were played. At the psychological moment Santa Claus, portrayed by Miss Gertrude Covernman, gave a one-act sketch entitled, "The Heavier the Pack, the Acher the Back," after which delicious refreshments of salad, cake and tea were served.

Those present included the hostess, Mrs. Eck, and Mrs. J. P. Clark, Mrs. P. R. Machtoft, Mrs. Frank Salmacia, Miss Viola Yorba, Miss Henrietta Smith, Miss Virginia Chaffee, Miss Mary Chapman and Miss Gertrude Covernman.

Pay Compliment
Mrs. J. M. Blankenship of 1317 North Brand boulevard was hostess Thursday afternoon for the third consecutive year in honor of Mrs. J. Rhea Baker, who is teacher of three Bible classes, the Wednesday Morning Interdenominational Bible class, and the Friday Evening Bible class. About fifty members of the three classes were received at the Blankenship home for the affair.

Christmas flowers and greenery decorated the rooms of the Blankenship home for the complimentary to Mrs. Baker. Mrs. J. K. Gilkerson led the devotions. Mrs. J. H. Culver, Mrs. J. E. Henderson and Mrs. C. L. Knestric were the official representatives of the three classes. On behalf of the classes Mrs. Knestric presented Mrs. Baker with an envelope containing a gift of money to be used to purchase an article for her own home.

After Mrs. Baker responded Mrs. R. D. Jones gave readings, Mrs. Edwin R. Hamilton and Mrs. Glenn B. Porter led in two original Christmas games.

Holiday Affair

The R. L. McCourt home at 336 North Central avenue was the scene of a gay holiday affair Wednesday night when Dewey McCourt entertained a group of fifteen boys and girl friends at an informal dance.

A large Christmas tree and other holiday decorations and favors were used by Mrs. McCourt in arranging her home for the affair. After a program of dancing a buffet lunch was served.

The company included Albert Plasterer, Mabel Todd, Jean Ingram, Stella Roberts, Katherine Stanley, Virginia Caldwell, Anna Marjorie Phillips and Caroline Ayars; and Charles Beamon, Alexander Chase, Homer Seales, Bob Ayars, Perry Townsend, Leighton Taylor, Harold Begg and Dewey McCourt.

Plan for Dinner

A delayed Christmas dinner will be enjoyed on Sunday at the Julian S. Hayward home at 428 West Lexington drive, when the E. P. Hayward family of 513 North Isabel street, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Hayward and Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Porter and daughter of 307 North Kenwood street will join the Julian Haywards for the day.

The gathering was planned for Christmas day, but owing to the illness of Russell Hayward, son of Mr. and Mrs. Julian Hayward, and the illness of Mrs. E. W. Hayward and Mrs. Porter with the gripe the affair was postponed.

Choir at Social

Members of the choir of the First Lutheran church were guests last night at an informal social affair at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul A. Hoffman at 327 North Maryland avenue.

The party followed the regular choir rehearsal, Mrs. Hoffman inviting the twenty-four members to visit at her home.

Six tables were arranged for games, prizes being won by Mrs. Burr and Mr. Ringer.

Deaths and Funerals

FRANK WILSON VAN
Funeral services for Frank Wilson Van, who passed away at 516 East Maple street, December 27, 1922, at the age of 54, will be held at 11 o'clock Saturday morning, December 30, from the Little Church of the Flowers, Forest Lawn cemetery, under the direction of the L. G. Seavern Co.

LOCAL FIRM GETS LARGE CONTRACT

Page Furniture Company to Install Equipment in K. of C. Home

The contract for furnishing the new Knights of Columbus home on East Lomita avenue has been awarded to the Page Furniture company, 308 East Broadway, and the work will begin immediately.

Mr. Brennan, chairman, and other members of the purchasing committee of the lodge, found no difficulty in selecting the furnishings from among the large stock carried by his company, W. C. Page said.

The Page Furniture company also furnished the new Catholic parish home, the extensive materials selected all being taken complete from the large stock carried by this firm. Mr. Page feels this is a significant illustration of the fact that the extensive and costly stocks carried by first class Glendale merchants make it unnecessary to purchase outside the city.

Dr. W. W. Warriner Opens Office Here

Dr. Wilbert W. Warriner, specialist in children's dentistry, is opening an office in Glendale at 194 South Brand boulevard, the second floor of the First National bank building.

Dr. Warriner is establishing his office to care for patients in this city who cannot afford the time to visit his office in Los Angeles. He is an experienced dental surgeon and practiced with signal success in Kansas City, Mo., before the World War, but patriotically gave up his work there to go to France with the A. E. F., as first lieutenant in charge of the dental work of his regiment.

After his return from overseas he came to Los Angeles, where he has made a specialty of children's dentistry, having his office in the Pacific Mutual life building. His residence in Glendale is 442 Vine street.

Elks to Hold Meet Night of January 2

By a special dispensation, the Elks lodge has secured permission to change the regular meeting night from Monday to Tuesday of this week. Monday being New Year's day the lodge members thought best to arrange for the change, so the first meeting of the calendar year will take place on Tuesday night, January 2. According to Secretary Willis M. Kimball a real surprise is being planned for the meeting.

Since New Year's eve comes on Sunday the annual New Year's eve dance is to be held in the club house tomorrow, Saturday night. It will be for members only.

STRANGLER GETS SWIFT HEARING

Indicted for Murder 19 Hours After Discovery Of Victim's Body

ORANGE, N. J., Dec. 29.—Famous Jersey justice, swift and sure, today cast its sinister shadow on the quivering form of William E. Battles, 19-year-old negro whose confession and indictment for first degree murder followed within nineteen hours of the discovery of the body of his victim, Mrs. Charles F. Brigham, kindly little housewife, mother of three children, strangled to death in the basement of her home, after being outraged by the negro.

Battles, in his confession, said he enticed Mrs. Brigham into the basement by pretending he had fallen and injured himself on the stairs. The woman died in heroic defense of her honor, while her three little children, ill with measles and diphtheria, slept in an upstairs room.

COUNCIL FAVORS LIMIT ON PAVING

Subdivisions Will Be Hit Hard by Drastic Order, Officials Told

City Engineer Ben F. Dupp stated his opinion that they were supposed to secure a permit, but mentioned a recent case where this had not been done.

"Do I understand that contractors have been putting in streets without getting a permit from the city of Glendale?" inquired Councilman C. E. Kimlin. "Is there no penalty? If not, it is high time that we had an ordinance covering the subject."

"I can explain that," asserted Mr. Dupp. "The present ordinance provides that no grading can be done or curbs changed without a permit."

A motion that City Attorney Hartley Shaw proceed to draft a better ordinance was made by Councilman Davis.

Mistake, He Says
Contractor Peter L. Ferry of 614 East Acacia street, addressed the council from the floor and stated his positive opinion that limiting street paving to not less than three inch macadam would be a serious mistake.

"There isn't a town in California which has passed such a drastic ordinance," he remarked. "Los Angeles permits surface oiling which doesn't commence to come up to specifications."

"An oiled street can get by for four or five years, and by that time the property will justify a permanent street."

The fact that new streets are almost invariably dug up for water pipes, gas pipes, sewer pipes and laterals was emphasized by Mr. Ferry.

"If you put down a first class pavement in the first place," he remarked, "you will practically have to repave it again."

Lots of Competition
Glendale subdividers have plenty of competition, with Los Angeles subdividers already, in the opinion of Mr. Ferry, and adding the cost of improving their streets with three inch macadam, would be considerable of a handicap.

O. G. Wilkey of Los Angeles, member of the firm of Edwards & Wilkey, whose local office is located at 100 North Central avenue, also spoke against the proposed standardization of street paving. He called attention to the fact that the amount of money which a subdivider would have to tie up in street work before the property was sold would be considerable. He also emphasized the probability of new streets being torn up shortly after being paved.

Execute Two More Irish Irregulars

DUBLIN, Dec. 29.—Two more republican irregular prisoners were executed by the Free State authorities today.

The executions took place at Kilkenny. According to the official announcement, issued here, the men were named Murphy and Whelan. They had been engaged in guerrilla warfare against the regulars.

About fourteen irregulars have been executed in the past few months.

Special Meeting at Adventist Church

At the Seventh-day Adventist church on Isabel street and California avenue, Saturday, December 30, commencing at 9:30 a. m., there will be held a special service to close the year 1922. A most interesting program has been prepared having especial reference to the gospel work in foreign countries.

The program will be in charge of Mrs. W. F. Martin, who has been the superintendent of the Sabbath school for the year past. All will be made welcome.

Money spent in Glendale helps to make Glendale a bigger and better city.

COMMENT THAT'S ALL

Getting Better, What? Censorship Failure Religious Hatred See Golden State

—By Gil A. Cowan—

D. R. EMIL COUE, noted French exponent of auto-suggestion, is coming to America where undoubtedly he will be received with open arms and more open wallets on the part of those who think they have something wrong with them.

It is about time that some of these foreign importations, and some home-made hokum, too, were sent to the rubbish pile and the dear public disillusioned about strings, hypnotism, psychics and such. There is nothing new in it, for religious fanatics in India for centuries have been walking across red-hot coals; the Indians of America have outraged themselves in ceremonies; and so-called intelligent citizens are going about declaring themselves cured of diseases they still possess—or never did have!

Too bad P. T. Barnum is not alive to press agent Dr. Coue and his ilk. Then the public would know it is "hokum" they are being peddled and buy it accordingly.

Censorship for films is being suggested in Los Angeles. Bah! Censorship of anything is a miserable failure and any bigot who believes in censorship has the grossest ignorance of human nature.

An advocate of censorship has developed an intelligence worthy of a petulant child, 6 to 10 years of age, who cries out in play "You shan't either."

Censorship of anything in America, provided it is not vicious or violent, is in contravention of the constitution. And, further, it is sure suicide for those who promote it.

When any public official, or semi-public official, steps into the role of censor, or elects to appoint censors, he is as surely headed for the guillotine as any sinner who hits the highway for hades.

Ten years ago fiery orators from soap boxes in Los Angeles were declaring that within two years this country would be engulfed by the crimes of sabotage. Today these same orators are given the air every once in a while by the police and allowed to return to their soap boxes, unless they are adjudged vicious, criminal syndicalists.

Where would this, or any other state get, if it tried to censor such people? The British tried it in Ireland, but not in Trafalgar square.

The Los Angeles council may pass ordinances, so may Glendale, Pasadena, etc., but they will carry with them the stigma of unconstitutionality, and laws that can not be respected are worse than no laws.

Another Catholic church in Canada has been destroyed by fire.

Here's hoping the authorities apprehend the incendiary and mete him justice befitting the crime.

There is too much religious hatred being stirred in this old world of ours and Americans are being hauled into the mess by hooded organizations, easily termed the klan and anti-klan.

First, a bunch of grafters get together and receive what is known as the Ku Klux Klan. They go out and prey on brothers in other lodges and for a paltry sum invest them with the secrets of a meaningless order which has an oath that sounds sufficiently saintly to excuse any overt act against the rights of others.

Then, race hatred having been stirred and religious freedom of these United States stung by the serpent of intolerance, other organizations come into existence to combat the klan!

There is no good reason for such organizations with the Masons, Knights of Columbus, B'nai B'rith, Knights of Pythias, American Legion and kindred organizations filling practically every need of a red-blooded American for fraternity, benevolence and protection.

And if sinister secret organizations are permitted to thrive in this land of ours a curse shall be spread upon its pages of history that shall blot with the blood of innocents a story of what pure, unadulterated "damphool-ism" will lead to in a republic.

Let's cut it out!

"More than a half billion dollars annually from California's natural resources."

Such is the caption of a Southern Pacific page advertisement appearing in this paper recently.

Wonder what our tourist friends, who labor under the delusion that they and they alone provide the income for this state, will think of that statement? Whole valleys of California, which never had a worst crop, are devoted to the growing of cotton better than the south produces!

Great counties in the Bear state produce better hogs which bring higher prices than you ever saw in Kansas.

Oil fields that compare with Texas and Oklahoma and Louisiana in production; mines that equal in richness anything ever discovered; orchards that produce more and better fruit; film studios where fully 50 per cent of the world's motion pictures are turned out; harbors to which all of the Orient looks—that is but a glimpse of California's wealth not taken away from the tourist!

At the same time the easterner looking for investment, the fam-

EXCHANGE CLUB ELECTS LEADER

D. Ripley Jackson Now President; Reports on Work Past Year

The order of business at the meeting of the Exchange club last night was reports on standing and special committees. The chairman of the committees making reports were Dr. J. A. Belyea, membership; George A. Whitaker, entertainment; James C. May, civics; George H. King, inter-city relations; E. B. Sutton, house; George A. Whitaker, attendance; James Howarth, program; W. H. Locke, publicity; R. E. Johnston, reception, and Carl A. Anspach, fraternal.

Financial Report
There followed the treasurer's report, read by Secretary Howarth in the absence of Treasurer Thomas. This report presented the budget for the year, showing a total of $1623.26 in receipts and $1396.28 in disbursements, leaving on hand in the club's treasury at the present time a balance of $229.98. This budget was approved by the club.

The secretary's report was then read by Mr. Howarth and presented a resume of the activities of the organization since its inception May 5, 1922, as the Progressive Business Club of Glendale. In July, the report stated, affiliation was made with the National Exchange clubs, of which there are 167 at the present time, with a joint membership in excess of 9000. This affiliation enlarged the scope and power of the organization, by giving contact with the middle west and east, while retaining representation on the Pacific coast.

For Improvements
Significant among worth-while movements the Glendale Exchange club has sponsored in the little over a half year of its existence, pointed out Secretary Howarth as assessment for a city park; effort to place a bridge across the Los Angeles river at a point on San Fernando road which would give access to Griffith park; music festival, Harry Girard; high school bonds; electric line on East Broadway to Yanga road; effort to have Los Angeles council pave Glendale avenue to Edendale; movement to eliminate objectionable signs and other unsightly features of Glendale; Southern Pacific depot; Sycamore canyon project; electrification of Glendale avenue; opposition to annexation; Salvation Army drive; Christmas tree and Santa Claus plans for kiddies; Community Service movement.

Postpone Meeting
It was announced that "Ladies' Night" would be postponed to the latter part of January, owing to the holidays intervening. It was also announced that a number of members are planning to leave by motor on January 29 for a weekend at Lebec. Any member not present at last night's meeting, who would be interested in making this trip, should communicate with one of the officers or directors at an early date.

A business meeting is called for next Wednesday night, for the purpose of organizing the new executive and directorial body, appointing committees and other similar matters. Every one is urged to turn out and start off the new year of Glendale's Exchange club with a bang, the new officers urge.

Special Service on P. E. to Tournament
Glendadians who are to be dependent upon the Pacific Electric system to travel to and from Pasadena on Monday will be interested in the announcement that the Pacific Electric officials have completed detailed plans for frequent and ample service to Los Angeles and from Los Angeles to Pasadena.

The Glendale line will be operated between 5:25 a. m. and 6:20 p. m. as follows: Leaves Los Angeles, Sixth and Main, at 5:25 a. m., 5:52 a. m., 6:20 a. m., 6:40 a. m., 7 a. m., 7:20 a. m., then every ten minutes until 6:20 p. m. Those cars alternating 7:20 a. m. and every twenty minutes to East Broadway; 7:30 a. m. and every twenty minutes to North Glendale; after 6:20 p. m. regular service will be resumed.

With regard to cars from Los Angeles to Pasadena, there will be, starting at 6 a. m., three cars operated approximately two minutes apart. Plans for handling the crowd expeditiously call for the Short Line and Pasadena trains via South Pasadena to be routed south on San Pedro, over the elevated and north on Main street, which is the reverse of the routes usually followed. Oak Knoll line trains will be routed in both directions via elevated and San Pedro streets, passengers boarding on stub tracks in rear of station. Regular routing and place of departure will be resumed after 2 p. m.

Commencing at 12:30 p. m. Short line trains will be routed direct to the stadium for the Trojan-Penn State game.

LOSES SUIT OF CLOTHES
The theft of a suit of clothes from the Victor Hotel, 119 1/2 North Brand boulevard, was reported yesterday afternoon by Mrs. C. A. Enos.

ily looking for a home, the skilled artisan looking for work, is welcomed and will find that opportunity exists any place in California from the Imperial Valley on the south to Mount Shasta on the north. Get an inside glimpse of the Golden State, folks.

REALTY MEN HOLD REGULAR MEETING

Many Matters of Importance Come Up at Session for Discussion

A discussion of general matters relating to the realty business was held yesterday at the regular weekly luncheon of the Glendale Real Estate Board. The meeting was held at the Broadway Inn.

C. D. Thom, president of the organization, presided. Mr. Thom is up and about again following a severe attack of grip.

One of the principal topics taken up at the session for discussion concerned "multiple listing," the new system recently adopted by the real estate board for the sale of property. All of the members present submitted favorable reports on the operation of the system.

A communication was read by Secretary E. P. Hayward, of the organization, from the National Association of Real Estate Dealers regarding the mid-winter convention of real estate men to be held in Jacksonville, Fla., during the month of February. The local board plans to have the state board represent Glendale at the Florida session.

Further Discussion Shelled
Further discussion on the new motor bus ordinance, which is being drawn up by the city council, was shelved by the membership for the time being. The real estate brokers at their meeting last week voted that the ordinance as written would compel them to pay a license for transporting prospective buyers about the city in automobiles.

Mayor Spencer Robinson, who was a guest at the meeting, told the assemblage that the ordinance as being amended by City Attorney Shaw. He said it would be submitted to the real estate board for the latter's approval before it would be adopted by the City Council.

Secretary Hayward announced that beginning the first of the year prominent public speakers will be heard semi-monthly at the organization's weekly meetings.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read by Mr. Hayward. They were all approved.

Three More Permits For Building Work

Three building permits were issued yesterday at the city hall. They involve $6150. This sum brings the total for the month so far to $460,096 this morning and for the year to date to $6,381,391. The trio comprised the following:

Mrs. Martha Welch, 6 rooms and garage, 500 East Palmer avenue, $ 2,500

W. A. Pryor, garage, 1521 East Harvard street, 150

Still Explodes; One Dead, One Missing

PEORIA, Ill., Dec. 29.—The explosion of a still in a shed here kindled a fire in which Robert Walton was burned to death, James Campbell perhaps fatally scorched and all trace of a third man wiped out. Police said the men upset the coils in a quarrel.

Fill a good oil heater with Pearl Oil. At the touch of a match you have a cheery, friendly heat for very little cost. And you can easily carry this comfortable warmth from room to room—wherever it is wanted—with no heat wasted in unused rooms.

Pearl Oil is economical. Every drop delivers real heat when and where it is needed. Pearl Oil is refined and re-refined by our special process, making it clean burning—no dirt—no smoke—no odor.

Sold in cans and in bulk by dealers everywhere. For your own protection order by name—Pearl Oil.

This Modern Store Announces An Annual

JANUARY Clearance Sale

Starting on Tuesday, Jan. 2, 1923

This will be a merchandising event well worth your waiting for, and if careful preparation, advantageous market conditions, painstaking merchandising selection are to be considered, then this coming clearance should, in our estimation, prove to be, by far, the most outstanding event that we have announced.

This will be more than an ordinary clearance, because, coupled with the unusual assortments of merchandise from the markets, there will be clearance lines from our own regular stock.
